

Rubio Monocoat supports children with disabilities in Peru.

Aynimundo is a Peruvian organization which helps more than 180 children and teenagers with disabilities. They give them access to physical therapy, psychology, speech therapy, ergotherapy, ... and help them to get an education. This ultimately helps them integrate in society and get ready for a job.

Rubio Monocoat cares about people and planet. In our efforts for corporate social responsibility, we want to give back to people. That's why we support this non-profit organisation in Peru, a charity that we fully believe in and can support on the long term. We believe both in their humanitarian goal and in the architectural aspect, where they use organic and ecological building materials to create a safe and healthy environment for children with disabilities.
